

ALL ABOUT ALFIE

What people like and admire most about Alfie.

Alfie is a very caring child who is loving and trusting of all those around him.

He always has a smile for everyone & he would do anything for his friends & family.

Alfie has eyes that sparkle with life.

WHAT IS IMPORTANT TO ALFIE

His family, especially his brother Gabriel who he loves very much.

Alfie is a home bird and loves to get home to the things that are familiar to him.

Alfie loves his school friends and loves having them around to the house especially Ben.

Alfie loves anything to do with transport especially trains and buses. He also loves Horrible History's on CBBC.

He also loves his computer especially doing power point presentations. He also loves his Trainz program where he can make his own train layouts and worlds.

Alfie loves Star wars the clone wars cartoons and always has to watch one before going to bed. He also likes total wipe out and Cbeebies.

HOW TO SUPPORT ALFIE

Alfie needs a lot of one to one if he is to be engaged in a topic. Alfie will tend to drift off or day dream so it is good to get him engaged through something he likes doing like Power Point presentations.

Alfie needs to feel include in school tasks, he knows when he is been left out and it upsets him. He could be given tasks that play to his strengths and sense of order such as making lists or organising things which relate to the classroom task so he feels included

Alfie needs lots of encouragement to join in PE with more focus on his motor skills.

When the class are set tasks to do as pairs Alfie needs a buddy, someone he knows and feels comfortable working with in a one to one situation. He doesn't like been left out.

Alfie doesn't like sudden changes to his time table he can find this very upsetting. So if there is going to be a change to his daily routine it is a good idea to talk to him in advance about this as so he is more prepared.
